System
4611

PRIME FLEX 4611 is a urethane elastomeric system designed to provide a soft walking/working surface over a variety of different substrates while helping to control Hospital-Acquired Infections (HAI). With no seams to maintain, no welds to accumulate germs and our PC PATHOCIDE finish sealer that kills surface pathogens, 4611 is the healthier alternative to welded sheet vinyl or other seamless floor applications. 4611 is unique in its ability to resist staining including betadyne, resists point loads from equipment and won't telegraph the substrate irregularities and defects.

COMMON APPLICATIONS

4611 is typically installed over clean prepared concrete where a soft, anti-fatigue and easily sterilized, yet durable finish is desired. Specific applications include, but are not limited to: Medical procedure and O.R. rooms, hospital patient rooms, laboratories, rehabilitation centers, schools, animal care facilities, zoos and any public areas.
